

Pastor Jon Hathorn

Matthew 4:19 says - "Come follow Me," Jesus said, "And I will make you fishers of men." This was the call that Jesus made to the disciples. Notice the emphasis that Jesus makes. COME - not please, not begging, and not a choice. FOLLOW ME - we are to have nothing between Him and ourselves and He is our teacher and the one we are to imitate, it is an intimate relationship with Him. I WILL MAKE YOU - He will mold us and train us to do the same as He did.

Lincoln is committed to increasing the training that we give and making a stronger emphasis and practice of mentorship. We are desiring to bring center-stage the idea of personal growth.

I am so thankful for all the people who have mentored me over the years, and I am so thankful for many of you who have been mentored and have mentored others. The Children, Youth, and Adult Commissions are working on the when and how of doing this - and we appreciate your prayers.

Besides following Him as Savior and Lord we want to help with training people.

As a church we are trying to glorify God in all things and lift up His name in praise, in word and in action. This means making disciples and helping people with life perspective and life attitudes. I want to thank our children and families ministry and our youth commission for their work of putting together something called HOPE AT HOME. There are three very valuable components to this.

1. Providing tools for parents to strategically train and raise their children in the Lord with year by year basic, simple and profound teaching. Lincoln loves kids and we love families - it is God's design for moms and dads to do the spiritual training and nurturing in and ongoing through the home.

2. Providing helpful resources to people who find themselves in various life situations where we often find ourselves looking for answers and even a bit hopeless. Words of wisdom and resources are life giving tools. These are for us, and they are also for those we know going through tough times.

3. Providing activity ideas to help develop family memories and teachable moments. These are for all sorts of life stages and conditions.

You will be hearing more about this valuable resource in the near future. Thank you again to all those who are working on this development.

May God be glorified in our journey of walking by faith and following Him,

Jon
